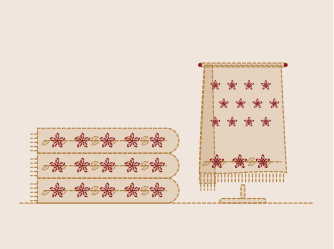
Handlooms

Shawls, stoles, mufflers and scarves, woven by hand in Kashmir, Kullu and Kutch. Give one on its own, or add it to any of our hampers.

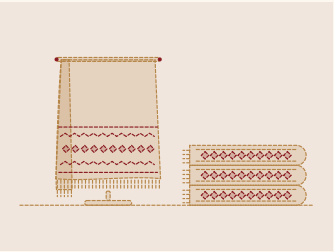
Handloom weaving in India.

Kashmir, Kullu and Kutch



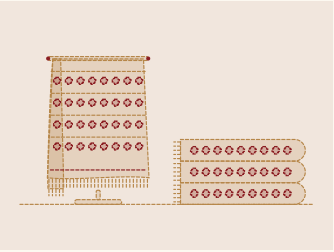
Pashmina and embroidery, from Kashmir

Kashmir is known for pashmina, spun and woven by hand from the fine undercoat of the Changthangi goat, and for the embroidery worked on its shawls.



Woven borders, from Kullu

Kullu, in Himachal Pradesh, is known for wool shawls with geometric borders woven into the cloth.



Woven motifs, from Kutch

Kutch, in Gujarat, is known for wool shawls whose motifs are picked into the cloth by hand as it is woven.

Give a shawl or a stole to leadership and clients, or add a muffler or a scarf to a team's hampers. Tell us which pieces, and how many, when you request a quote.
